

THE BEN WRIGHT CRYSTAL MOUNTAIN INVITATIONAL

AUGUST 24-26, 2017 | CRYSTAL MOUNTAIN

BEN WRIGHT

- CBS Sports & Golf Broadcaster, 23 years
- Broadcaster for BBC, ITV, & Australian TV
- Columnist for the Observer & Sunday Times
- Contributed to Time & Sports Illustrated
- Editor at Large for Links Magazine

Ben Wright is an Emmy and Peabody award winning broadcaster who has been observing and analyzing the game of golf for over fifty years. A native of England now residing in North Carolina, he spent 23 years as “the voice of golf,” for CBS Sports covering the game’s greatest events including the Ryder Cup and the Masters at Augusta National Golf Club.

Wright is also an accomplished writer penning two books including an autobiography, Good Bounces and Bad Lies, as well as another entitled Speak Wright in which he worked with Michigan-based collaborator Michael Patrick Shiels. In addition, he has worked as columnist for several newspapers and contributed to Time magazine and Sports Illustrated.

In 2007, Crystal Mountain honored the legendary broadcaster by renaming its traditional two-day tournament in August the Ben Wright Crystal Mountain Invitational.
